

Recycling Wish List

These items will be used to enhance art projects, in science experiments, and for mathematic problem solving manipulatives.

aluminum tins (a variety of sizes)

beads (plastic or wooded)

bells

bottle caps (milk, soda)

buttons

cardboard (shirt weight)

cereal boxes (open the ends and flatten)

Ceramic bathroom tiles (less than 4")

children's books

clothespins

coffee cans

containers (for game or activity storage)

corks

crystal delight containers

dress-up props

fabric

feathers (store bought or au natural)

keys

leather scraps

magnets

margarine tubs (or something similar)

mesh produce bags

misc. games pieces

microwave dishes

Money- play

old greeting cards and envelopes

old toys

paper towel rolls

pillow cases-white

plastic concentrated juice containers

plastic tomato boxes

popcycle sticks (new)

scrap wood (used in gluing activities)

sequence or glitter

shampoo bottles

sheets-white (they make great costumes)

shells

shoe boxes (plastic or cardboard)

smooth edged juice can covers

spools

stickers

tennis balls

unused straws

weird items: If you come across something and you think to yourself, "maybe the Kindergartners could create something terrific with this...." send it in. You never know! Worst case scenario, it's sent back with a lovely "thanks but no